Pumpkin Tidbits

Mrs. Richard K. Miller of Urbana sends this Pumpkin Cake recipe, along with her best regards for the 59th festival: one box spice cake mix (any kind), half cup sugar, half cup water, one tsp. cinnamon, two eggs (beat one at a time), two cups pumpkin, mix and pour in greased and flowered pan size 13 by 9 by 2 inches and bake at 325 degrees for 50 minutes. Mix whipping cream and spice together, using the amount of spice best preferred, and frost.

Harold Clifton will testify that Don Henkle hasn't changed a bit. Henkle, who managed a local dime store until 10 years ago when he moved to Seymour, Ind., was back today for the Pumpkin Show. This morning, he wandered into Clifton's auto parts store where the proprietor failed to recognize the potential customer. Asked what he wanted, Henkle replied that he needed "a set of springs for a jaybird." Recognition came immediately to Clifton who then recalled many another prank pulled by the jolly Henkle.

Gene Lindsey, owner of Lindsey's Bake Shop, has a new title, according to Mrs. Twyla Leist, one of the show trustees. Twyla says Lindsey refuses to bake the "world's largest pumpkin pie every year" and when he does "it's gonna be the last." He did bake the pie this year and Twyla and other show directors have dubbed him the "Sweetheart of the Pumpkin Show."

Some of the workers at the judging of the 188 babies yesterday afternoon claim entries were "cut in half" because of the rain. Last year there were nearly 300 entries.

Showers have caused many visitors to take advantage of the indoor displays of the Pumpkin Show. Hundreds of people file through the building on E. Main St. that houses fruit and vegetable displays, art exhibits and flower show entries. (Continued on Page Two)

Priests Talk Ohio GI Out of Leap

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 22-year-old Springfield, Ohio, youth who had threatened to jump from the ninth floor ledge of a YMCA building was coaxed back inside Thursday by two priests.

Michael Toger Madek told police he was fed up with the Navy and "This is the way out."

Several hundred persons stood quietly below in 100-degree heat as two priests from St. Vibiana's Roman Catholic Cathedral talked with Madek more than an hour. The onlookers gasped and then applauded as Madek moved to climb back through the ninth floor window.

The youth was taken to Central Receiving Hospital for observation.

Full Agenda Eyed if Rain Diminishes

A most welcome appearance by Mr. Sun at about 10 a. m. today may be all that is needed to bring Circleville's 59th Pumpkin Show up to full expectations.

The pleasant sight of blue overhead seemed to provide a new "lease on life" for the Pumpkin Show. The lack of it Wednesday and Thursday left the city a little more than on the demoralized side.

A most pertinent question now is "how long will the sunshine last?" The weatherman wasn't too encouraging early today — he said more drizzles can be expected — but just a glimpse of that clearing trend was enough to send local spirits soaring.

The break in the rain clouds was accompanied by slightly cooler air. This is in line with the weatherman's advance prediction that crisper temperatures and clearing may be on the menu for tomorrow.

WEDNESDAY night's rain and the steady drizzle that remained throughout yesterday resulted in a heavy curb on usual activity, but not a halt by any means. The Baby parade scheduled for Thursday afternoon and the Parade of Bands in the evening both were cancelled. However, judging of the babies was conducted in the First Methodist Church basement.

Crowds were well below normal Wednesday and Thursday, although more people than reasonably expected were on hand both nights.

Despite the early soggy conditions, the big show is expected to cut loose in full force if the dry spell continues. A heavy program agenda for the rest of today, tonight and tomorrow will provide all the incentive needed.

Veteran show observers feel spectators will flock here if the weather will only cooperate. In fact, crowds the last two nights may be heavier than usual due to the earlier weather misfortunes which kept fans away.

Although the elements cut deep into the usual influx of people, Pumpkin Show can still be termed "Homecoming" for former Roundtowners. A quick (Continued on Page Two)

Defense Slated In Klan Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The defense was to start this afternoon in the second murder trial of Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., a young Ku Klux Klansman.

The state rested its case this morning after an FBI ballistics expert testified that bullets which killed a white woman civil rights worker were fired from a gun introduced as evidence.

Earlier the defense promised to drop a "bombshell" in its presentation.

The gun was identified Thursday by an FBI informant as the one used to kill Mrs. Viola Liuzzo last March 25.

Marion E. Williams of the FBI Criminal Laboratory, Washington, said markings on a bullet taken from Mrs. Liuzzo's head and test bullets fired from the pistol bore similar markings.

Williams said empty cartridge cases found one-half mile from Mrs. Liuzzo's car on U.S. 80 in Lowndes County also were from the same gun.

Business Briefs

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. sales and earnings for the third quarter of 1965 exceeded any previous third quarter in the company's history, according to David G. Hill, president.

Third quarter earnings were $15,564,000, equivalent to $1.46 per share as compared with earnings of $15,426,000 or $1.45 per share for the third quarter of 1964.

Hill noted that earnings for the third quarter of last year included a profit on sales of securities equivalent to more than 15 cents per share. Earnings from operations in the current quarter reflect a much greater improvement than is indicated by the comparison of total earnings as reported for these two periods.

Sales for the third quarter were $225,896,000, compared with $211,466,000 for the same period of 1964. Consolidated sales for the first nine months of 1965 amounted to $657,831,000, exceeding sales for the same period of 1964 by 7 per cent. Sales for the comparable period of last year were $613,482,000.

Killing of Young Thug Is Ruled Justifiable

CLEVELAND (AP) — Chief Police Prosecutor Edward W. Cain ruled Thursday that the fatal shooting of a 20-year-old east side youth by a beverage store owner was justifiable. The youth, Theodore M. Dancy, was shot Wednesday night as he and a companion tried to steal a television set from Gary's Home Furnishings Store at 8117 Superior Ave., police said.

The beverage store owner, whose place of business is next to the home furnishings store, told police one of the thieves fired at him. He said he dropped to the ground and emptied his gun at the pair.

'2nd Look' Surgery Is Being Hailed

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Novel "second look" surgical operations for one of the worst forms of cancer are increasing survival rates moderately—and also are blazing trails for "better operations" of the future. The operations are undertaken in apparently healthy people.

This was reported to the American College of Surgeons today by Dr. Ward O. Griffen Jr. of the University of Kentucky.

The "second look" operations are planned for 4 to 9 months later for patients whose tissue removed by the initial surgery shows the cancer has a potential to spread via the lymphatic system.

The second - shot operations are based on these statistics: If a patient has a cancer confined to the colon, his chance for five-year survival after initial operation—the usual criteria of "cure"—are about 75 per cent.

If the cancer spreads to the lymph system, chances of survival are reduced to 30 per cent. The percentage is lower for cancers of the stomach and rectum.

The novel thing about the "second look" operations, Griffen told the closing session of the surgeons' convention, is that they are undertaken at a time when the patient is showing no symptoms of cancer.

350 More Cubans Find U.S. Haven

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Refugees are leaving Cuba by the hundreds but Prime Minister Fidel Castro says men of military age will be kept behind.

The arrival of more than 350 refugees aboard 26 small boats in the Florida Keys Thursday ended a two-day lull in the exodus. Twenty-three arrived aboard two small boats early today.

New arrivals said more than 200 boats are waiting to sail emigrants the 90 miles to Key West.

Twenty-seven refugees and three crewmen crowded into the 20-foot motorboat Cherokee. Despite 80-degree heat, refugee Pablo Martinez Vera clutched an old brown wool overcoat.

"This is in case they send me up north," he said.

The new arrivals brought to more than 1,000 the number who have fled since Oct. 10.

One new arrival, Juvenal Montesino, said, "I just made it; I'll be 14 years old in 10 days."

Youths 14 to 27 are required to complete their military service in Cuba.

Bombers Pummel Railroad Lines In North Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. bombing has been concentrating heavily in the past several weeks on railroad lines linking North Viet Nam's capital with Red China, U.S. officials said today.

What gives this pattern of attack significance is that this single-track line is the major rail connection between parts of Communist China. Trains bound from one part of southern China to another must travel through Hanoi.

Thus, in addition to impeding the movement of Chinese aid into North Viet Nam, the U.S. bombing may also be disrupting Chinese communications to some extent.

U.S. jets have been hitting repeatedly at tracks, bridges and yards along the rail route extending to the northeast and northwest from Hanoi. Highways and highway bridges also have been smashed.

Officials disclosed this while disputing allegations by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, that not enough air power is being used in the Viet Nam war.

LeMay, former head of the Strategic Air Command, told a luncheon Thursday honoring him as winner of the 1965 Collier Trophy that because of a holdback in air power "there are people still getting killed who shouldn't be killed."

The U.S. officials defended U.S. bombing policy, saying it has been directed at destroying military targets and trying to stop the flow of men and arms

Three Motorcycle Riders Forfeit $24 Bonds in Court

Herbert Gaines, 33, of 385 Walnut St., who entered a plea of guilty to driving while under the influence of intoxicants, was fined $200 and costs today by Judge Lamb. In addition, the judge sentenced him to a three - day stay in the county jail and ordered his driving rights suspended for six months.

Dean Williams, 19, Chillicothe, was fined $50 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty to reckless operation.

Donald Stonerock, 29, Chillicothe, was fined $50 and costs for speeding 90 miles per hour in a 60 mile zone.

Congress Near Adjournment

Sugar, Pay Bills Still Unresolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress pushes toward adjournment today, still faced with final decisions on federal pay and sugar legislation.

As the session drew near a close, the Johnson administration saw money denied to start two of its "Great Society" programs when both Houses accepted the decision of Senate-House conferees to drop appropriations requests at this time for rent subsidy and teachers corps programs.

But the action scarcely dimmed the luster of a Congress which had given President Johnson practically every major bill for which he asked.

In both instances Thursday, the Senate backed down in the face of House insistence that funds be delayed until details of the programs can be further worked out.

These issues remained to be settled:

— SUGAR. Senate and House conferees meet today to work out differences between the two chambers' measures setting foreign and domestic quotas for the U.S. sugar market.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee indicated he thinks there will be little difficulty in reaching an agreement.

The Senate bill is more in line with administration recommendations.

— FEDERAL PAY. Prompt Senate passage was expected today of a bill with salary increases of 3.6 per cent effective Oct. 1 for 1.8 million federal workers.

The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee scaled down a House-passed bill calling for a 4 per cent raise — more than the administration favors. The House was expected to go along with Senate action in order to avoid the possibility of a presidential veto.

Defense Slated In Klan Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The defense was to start this afternoon in the second murder trial of Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., a young Ku Klux Klansman.

The state rested its case this morning after an FBI ballistics expert testified that bullets which killed a white woman civil rights worker were fired from a gun introduced as evidence.

Earlier the defense promised to drop a "bombshell" in its presentation.

The gun was identified Thursday by an FBI informer as the one used to kill Mrs. Viola Liuzzo last March 25.

Marion E. Williams of the FBI Criminal Laboratory, Washington, said markings on a bullet taken from Mrs. Liuzzo's head and test bullets fired from the pistol bore similar markings.

Williams said empty cartridge cases found one-half mile from Mrs. Liuzzo's car on U.S. 80 in Lowndes County also were from the same gun.

Gary Thomas Rowe, 35, a

Klansman turned FBI informer, testified Thursday that the 21-year-old Wilkins emptied a pistol into Mrs. Liuzzo's car after a nighttime high-speed auto chase on the highway.

Williams testified that at least five bullets struck Mrs. Liuzzo's car and that three, including the one which killed her, were recovered.

Rowe, the state's key witness, said another Klansman, Eugene Thomas, had handed the pistol to Wilkins before the shooting took place.

In cross-examination, defense attorney Arthur J. Hanes questioned Williams on the bullets fired into Mrs. Liuzzo's car. Hanes, using a diagram, attempted to show that bullets might have also struck a passenger seated in the car.

The 39-year-old mother of five was ferrying civil rights workers back to Selma after a 50-mile, four-day march on the state Capitol in Montgomery when she was shot. A young Negro in the car with her, Leroy Moton, escaped injury.

The first trial of Wilkins, a

Fairfield, Ala., mechanic, ended in a hung jury.

God, Country Put 'First'

Klavern Records
Given to Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Goldsboro, N.C., Ku Klux Klansman resigned from the Klan today in a congressional witness chair, saying he believed God and his country should come before any Klan vows.

Joseph G. DuBois, a used car salesman who said he was treasurer of the Goldsboro Klan Klavern, turned over records and documents of his unit to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

The committee, which is making a general investigation of the Klan, had subpoenaed the records.

In earlier sessions this week of the investigation higher leaders of the Klan had refused to turn over any records or answer any questions.

DuBois told the committee he had been advised to "stand on the Fifth Amendment." But he said "I think that will not help my record. Any vows I took in the Klan are secondary to my loyalty and integrity to the nation. God is first, then country. I have no intention to take the Fifth no matter what."

The Fifth Amendment of the Constitution provides no one can be forced to give testimony that would incriminate him. This amendment was invoked by previous Klan witnesses, including Imperial Wizard Robert Shelton of the United Klans of America, in refusing to answer questions.

Though refusing to talk when in the witness chair, Shelton has been a talkative man when out of it. "You don't see me worried, do you?" he said to reporters Thursday.

The pudgy DuBois proved to be a different breed of Klansman.

He said he joined the Klan 18 months ago, feeling that its purpose was "the betterment of the country."

Goldsboro Klansmen, he said, were "garden variety Americans" and "as far as I know there is nothing subversive in it."

He said he had told the local Klavern about the committee subpoena and by a unanimous show of hands they gave him permission to turn over the records.

Nonetheless, he told the committee "I would like to resign as a Klan member and treasurer of my unit."

DuBois produced the records from a brief case and handed them over in a leather pouch. He said he would like to have them returned because the Klavern had entrusted him with them.

As DuBois testified, Shelton sat watching intently in a front row of the audience. So did James R. Jones, grand dragon of the North Carolina Klan. Both these Klansmen had questioned to answer all questions asked by the committee.

Committee investigators said the Goldsboro Klavern operated under the name of Wayne County Improvement Association.

The committee recessed for lunch at this stage.

DuBois, questioned by reporters, said the reason he resigned was that he was contacted this morning—by whom he wouldn't say—and told to take the "Fifth Amendment."

He expressed belief that "only a Communist takes the Fifth Amendment or someone with something to hide."

'2nd Look' Surgery Is Being Hailed

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Novel "second look" surgical operations for one of the worst forms of cancer are increasing survival rates moderately—and also are blazing trails for "better operations" of the future. The operations are undertaken in apparently healthy people.

This was reported to the American College of Surgeons today by Dr. Ward O. Griffen Jr. of the University of Kentucky.

The "second look" operations are planned for 4 to 9 months later for patients whose tissue removed by the initial surgery shows the cancer has a potential to spread via the lymphatic system.

The second - shot operations are based on these statistics:

If a patient has a cancer confined to the colon, his chance for five-year survival after initial operation—the usual criteria of "cure"—are about 75 per cent.

If the cancer spreads to the lymph system, chances of survival are reduced to 30 per cent. The percentage is lower for cancers of the stomach and rectum.

The novel thing about the "second look" operations, Griffen told the closing session of the surgeons' convention, is that they are undertaken at a time when the patient is showing no symptoms of cancer.

Man Is Acquitted In Lorain Slaying

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — "God bless you all," Alexander Lesh told a Lorain County Common Pleas Court jury which acquitted him Thursday night of first-degree murder.

Lesh, 33, of Lorain was charged with the fatal shooting Aug. 20 of Norbert Thomas, 27, of Lorain.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated almost seven hours.

Thomas was shot while he sat in his auto parked in front of the home of Lesh's estranged wife, Oralla. Lesh was being sued for divorce and Thomas had been dating the woman, police said.

Lesh testified he fired at Thomas in self-defense.

Bombers Pummel Railroad Lines In North Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. bombing has been concentrating heavily in the past several weeks on railroad lines linking North Viet Nam's capital with Red China, U.S. officials said today.

What gives this pattern of attack significance is that this single-track line is the major rail connection between parts of Communist China. Trains bound from one part of southern China to another must travel through Hanoi.

Thus, in addition to impeding the movement of Chinese aid into North Viet Nam, the U.S. bombing may also be disrupting Chinese communications to some extent.

U.S. jets have been hitting repeatedly at tracks, bridges and yards along the rail route extending to the northeast and northwest from Hanoi. Highways and highway bridges also have been smashed.

Officials disclosed this while disputing allegations by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, that not enough air power is being used in the Viet Nam war.

LeMay, former head of the Strategic Air Command, told a luncheon Thursday honoring him as winner of the 1965 Collier Trophy that because of a hold-back in air power "there are people still getting killed who shouldn't be killed."

The U.S. officials, saying it has been directed at destroying military targets and trying to stop the flow of men and arms into South Viet Nam, rather than being an offensive to destroy North Viet Nam's economy.

These officials described the bombing as pursuing "limited objectives." Citing results, they said 130 bridges — important links on roads and railroads — have been made impassable.

About 90 per cent of the traffic in Communist soldiers and weapons bound for South Viet Nam travels over North Viet Nam's rail and road network, these officials estimated.

Thursday, officials also reported —

More than 20 sites for Soviet-built anti-aircraft missiles have been spotted in North Viet Nam. Most are not operational.

About 25,000 Viet Cong soldiers have been killed in Viet Nam this year, but despite the losses the number of Communist regular and irregular troops has increased in the past four months. Last year's Viet Cong losses were placed at 17,000.

Twenty-eight American servicemen were killed in action in the week ended last Monday. Since January 1961, 830 Americans have been killed.

And, in a Senate speech, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said there are clear signs Viet Cong morale is beginning to crack. The Communists, he said, now realize they cannot win the war and "hope to achieve at the conference table the victory which has been denied them on the field of battle."

Congress Near Adjournment

Sugar, Pay Bills
Still Unresolved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress pushes toward adjournment today, still faced with final decisions on federal pay and sugar legislation.

As the session drew near a close, the Johnson administration saw money denied to start two of its "Great Society" programs when both Houses accepted the decision of Senate-House conferees to drop appropriations requests at this time for rent subsidy and teachers corps programs.

But the action scarcely dimmed the luster of a Congress which had given President Johnson practically every major bill for which he asked.

In both instances Thursday, the Senate backed down in the face of House insistence that funds be delayed until details of the programs can be further worked out.

These issues remained to be settled:

SUGAR. Senate and House conferees meet today to work out differences between the two chambers' measures setting foreign and domestic quotas for the U.S. sugar market.

Chairman Harold D. Cooley, D-N.C., of the House Agriculture Committee indicated he thinks there will be little difficulty in reaching an agreement. The Senate bill is more in line with administration recommendations.

FEDERAL PAY. Prompt Senate passage was expected today of a bill with salary increases of 3.6 per cent effective Oct. 1 for 1.8 million federal workers.

The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee scaled down a House-passed bill calling for a 4 per cent raise — more than the administration favors. The House was expected to go along with Senate action in order to avoid the possibility of a presidential veto.

Pumpkin Tidbits

Workers in the Junior Chamber of Commerce cider and doughnut booth today said the Kiwanis Booth is not the only one to open before 7 a. m. For the past four years the Jaycees have had coffee and doughnuts ready to serve at that hour, even on the opening day of the show.

The Kiwanians are going everywhere one better this year, however. They intend to open up early Sunday morning to provide hotcakes and sausage for the workers who are cleaning up when the big show is over.

Harlan Hindman of Washington, Ind., rode up Franklin St. this morning in a horse and buggy. It is Hindman's second trip to the Pumpkin Show and he intends to enter the horse in a parade. No, he didn't drive the rig all the way from Indiana, but hauled it on a trailer.

Dorothy Shadley thought a squirrel had appeared to enter the Pumpkin Pie baking contest today. The cute little animal was in the downtown rooms in the IOOF building shared by the fine arts, flower show, Lou's Flowers, the vegetable show and the pie baking headquarters. Mrs. Shadley said the curious little squirrel made a tour of the displays, sat in the window for a while just looking things over and finally left.

The sun peeked out from behind the clouds for a few short minutes this morning, bringing smiles to the faces of the early crowd as well as to the operators of concession stands and food booths. With the rain which has kept the huge crowds of previous years away there has been a noticeable drop in revenue for everybody.

Arkansas Man Fined $60 for Intoxication

The first day he appeared, Smith walked out of the court room before a hearing was held. He was fined $10 and costs on one count and $50 and costs the day he walked out.

Now Wait a Minute, Casey! by Maury Allen (Doubleday & Co.), 254 pages.

Whether you are a baseball fan or a born sympathizer, the story of Casey Stengel and the Mets will delight you.

It is difficult to say why the Mets should be so popular. Psychologists and sociologists theorize that it is because everyone can root for the underdog — and still others say it is a striving for individuality to be a Met fan. Anyone can claim a winner but it takes real spunk to root for a consistent loser.

The Mets were composed of players no one else wanted and led by a man who was too old for baseball. But Casey took all the boys to Florida that first year and told them they "could make a living." And they did besides winning 40 and losing 120.

Even though they never won a pennant or the majority of their games, the Mets did set records. For instance: — only team to lose 16 players in an elevator the night before an opening season; — Only team to lose a game after 10 hours, 23 minutes and 23 innings of play.

This is the story of the Mets from beginning to end of the 1964 season. But it is more than that. It is the story of Casey Stengel and the love between the Mets and the fans who cheered: brought banners, bought tickets, and most importantly, they dared to shout: "Let's Go, Mets!"

Through Darkest Adolescence, by Richard Armour (McGraw - Hill Book Co.), 180 pages.

Mr. Armour is very precise in pointing out that he too went through adolescence. Since he remembers it, he is using his experience as a former teen-ager and past parent as a frame of reference.

Book Review

By SUE PAGNANO

Now Wait a Minute, Casey! by Maury Allen (Doubleday & Co.), 254 pages.

Whether you are a baseball fan or a born sympathizer, the story of Casey Stengel and the Mets will delight you.

It is difficult to say why the Mets should be so popular. Psychologists and sociologists theorize that it is because every-one can root for the underdog — and still others say it is a striving for individuality to be a Met fan. Anyone can claim a winner but it takes real spunk to root for a consistent loser.

The Mets were composed of players no one else wanted and led by a man who was too old for baseball. But Casey took all the boys to Florida that first year and told them they "could make a living." And they did be-sides winning 40 and losing 120.

Even though they never won a pennant or the majority of their games, the Mets did set re-cords. For instance: — only team to lose 16 players in an elevator the night before an opening sea-son; — Only team to lose a game after 10 hours, 23 minutes and 23 innings of play.

This is the story of the Mets from beginning to end of the 1964 season. But it is more than that. It is the story of Casey Stengel and the love between the Mets and the fans who cheered; brought banners, bought tickets, and most im-portantly, they dared to shout: "Let's Go, Mets!"

Through Darkest Adoles-cence, by Richard Armour (Mc-Graw - Hill Book Co.), 180 pages.

Mr. Armour is very precise in pointing out that he too went through adolescence. Since he remembers it, he is using his ex-perience as a former teen-ager and past parent as a frame of reference.

To the author, being an adolescent is a disease — common and necessary. It has no im-munization and almost always lasts for years and sometimes always.

The candidness of the story is effective and sometimes funny. However, one often gets the feel-ing they heard their neighbor say the same things described in this book. Not as wittily per-haps, but it does sound fam-iliar.

The saving grace of the book, however, are its original jingles interspersed here and there for Those who fear for the safety of astronauts when they are whirling through outer space should see what they have to go through when they are on the ground.

America's first astronaut, Col. John Glenn, and his wife have been on a tour of Germany. In Munich, they were escorted by local police to the city's famed beer-drinking festival, Oktoberfest. It was a shattering experience.

Not that the Munich people disliked the astronaut. They loved him. No sooner had he entered the "Schottenhamel" beer tent than a friendly beer-filled crowd of 7,000 surrounded him.

An alpine hat was clapped on his head, a quart of beer put in one hand, and the bandleader's baton in the other.

Then, as Col. Glenn led the musicians in a selection of Bavarian music, and America's "The Stars and Stripes Forever," the celebrators went into an ecstasy of gemutlichkeit. They threw hats into the air, climbed up on the chairs and tables, and in the final moments, clustered around Glenn in a mass that had police fearing for his safety.

Wonder if outer space has any hazards to compare with the Oktoberfest?

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Wish your husband looked less like a bald eagle and more like either of the senators Kennedy? Wish your boyfriend looked more like Tony Curtis? Wish your school-boy son looked less like a prickly pear and more like Prince Charles?

Madam, you should consult your friendly barber — beg pardon, your friendly hair stylist.

But which ever he is these days, he can probably tell you that the ancient craft of cutting men's hair has developed into a billion-dollar annual hair care industry.

The only recession the barbers see ahead is that of hairlines on the masculine head. Industry spokesmen say they have ways of handling that and that more men than you may suspect are taking to the latter-day techniques of camouflage.

There are still more barbers than men's hair stylists in these United States — some 300,000 of the basic type and some 18,000 of the newer clique. But the latter say their number is growing fast.

And they hope that the nation's youth training programs will produce a new flock of apprentice barbers. From such will be recruited the hair stylists of tomorrow. New schools are springing up to teach latter-day barbering techniques.

Both barbers and stylists will be gathering here next week for the annual national barber show. And there'll be a lot more on display than just shears, clippers and whisk brooms. New products include hair gels, hair setting lotions, sprays and dyes

— that's right, for masculine purchasers. And on display for the whiffing will be a host of bottles labeled "true masculine scents."

"The young barber of today has a chance to regain the high status of Figaro in Rossini's 'The Barber of Seville,'" Hal A. Salzman says.

"Then the barber was a prime consultant on high fashion, business and worldly affairs and even practiced dentistry and minor surgery."

Salzman wears three hats. He is president of Odell, which makes tonics and other preparations for the care of hair and scalp. He is chairman of the Tonsorial Information Council. And he is chairman of the Barber Shop Promotion Committee of Beauty and Barbers Manufacturing Association.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN OSCAR LEVANT was still a youthful piano prodigy, and not drinking more than thirty cups of black coffee a day, he once fell into the hands of some professional card sharks who clipped him several times running for just about everything he had made between sessions. As he was paying up the last of many $500 payments, Levant suddenly declared,

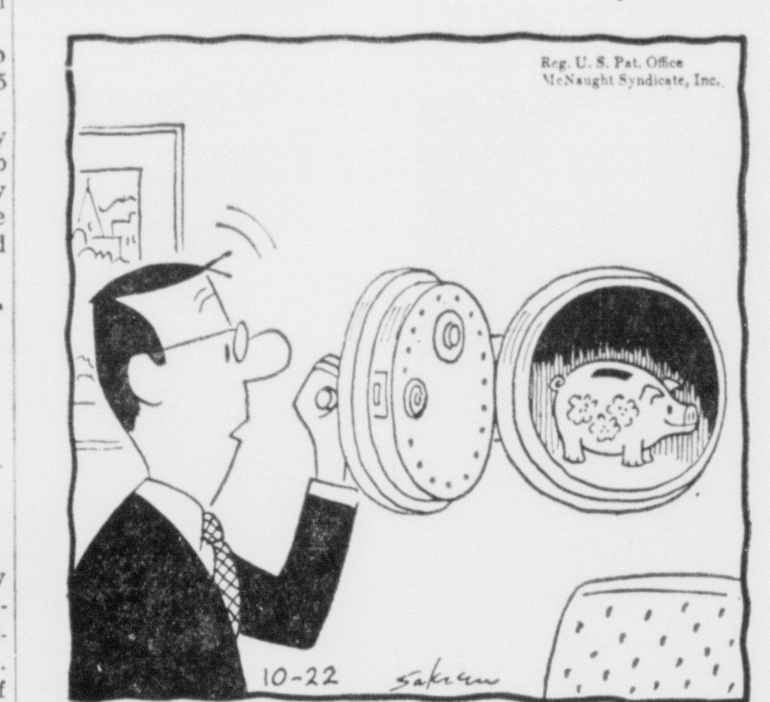

"I don't want to make a scene, but I think you fellows have been cheating me." The leader of the group admitted frankly, "Oscar we'd been planning it, but after seeing you play, we didn't have to."

A beautiful chick from a Broadway musical married a dyspeptic millionaire of seventy who, in due course, passed away and left her the fortune she had been counting on. She was loyal in her fashion, and at his funeral, even managed a few tears. "I'll say one thing about my late husband," she cheerfully conceded to the press. "Not one of the checks he gave me ever bounced."

BLITZ BROTHERS

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Our son, who recently had his sixth birthday, is the subject of my letter.

Last year our family doctor examined him to see if there was some disorder to account for his continuous bed-wetting. He found nothing wrong.

Shortly after that he started school, and was fine for the first two months. Then, suddenly, not only the bed-wetting started again, but he soiled himself as well. Never did he have an accident at school, just at home.

We have tried everything. Buying him things, punishing him, ignoring it, spanking him. Although the wetting has stopped he still soils himself. I am at my wit's end.

This evening we told him we would take him away to a home and leave him there. He is at the moment packing his clothes as his father told him to do. He's to be ready to leave when my husband comes home.

The poor child must be scared to death. But my husband and I are hoping a good scare will correct him. He is a very good child in every other way.

We have three other children, a boy 9½ years, a girl 8 years and the baby 2 years old.

My heart aches for my son. Can you help this child? I am desperate.

Mrs. M.E., Pennsylvania
Dear Mrs. E.: It seems to me that hardly a day passes without a letter from one of my readers asking for help for a persistent bed-wetter.

All of them are written by desperate parents who love their children and who, like you, seem to have exhausted every possibility for helping them.

In almost every case, a complete physical examination has failed to show any defect to account for the persistent bed-wetting, technically known as "enuresis." Yet the bed-wetting continues.

Many parents, like you, say that they have "tried everything." Actually, they have failed to try the most important approach to the solution of the problem: the psychological reasons for this disturbance.

In your case, you have resorted to the most intense errors by "punishing him, ignoring him, spanking him," and now threatening to abandon him completely. I agree with you to this extent: the little fellow must certainly be "scared to death."

Good, kind, well-meaning parents like yourself will go on making these mistakes until they realize that the one thing they must do, and have not yet done, is to seek the help of a trained psychiatrist or psychologist who will unravel the complex emotional problems responsible for their child's bed-wetting.

There is one thing I can suggest until you find the proper psychological guidance for your child. Stop punishing and humiliating him. Surround him, instead, with love and patient understanding.

If you and your husband can do this, you have taken the first giant step towards restoring the security of your child and the happiness of your family.

Hospital visitors must realize that patients tire easily. Make your visit a short one.

Challenge of Change

Many Living Comforts Are Assured by Science

EDITOR'S NOTE: The past 20 years have brought TV sets, frozen foods, electric can openers and credit cards. The next generation may wonder how we eved did without a home computer, two-way wristwatch-radios and disposable clothes. Associated Press Science Writer Alton Blakeslee explores the "comforts of living" which the technological revolution has brought in the third of a 10-part series on the scientific age.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

In comforts, conveniences, gadgets and available amusements, the average American today surpasses the rosiest dreams of kings and queens of yore.

A horn of plenty called technology has softened and enriched the lives and habits of most — but far from all — citizens to amazing degree, particularly in the last 20 brief years.

Reflect, for a moment, how bare your cupboard would be without the things and systems coming your way in only the last two decades or so:

You give up your TV even in black and white ... wash-and-wear and crease-resistant clothing and other wondrous fabrics ... transistorized radios ... lightweight or sound-absorbing walls and ceilings installed by the do-it-yourselfer ... hi-fi and stereo sets ... humidifiers and dust-traps ... an arsenal of weed and crabgrass killers, plant hormones and new insecticides for the suburbanite ... power-mowers ...

Take away plastic hoses and wrappings ... electric shavers, blankets, can openers and toothbrushes ... detergents ... automated reservation systems for hotels and air travel ... most credit cards ...

Our spiralling economic productivity, from science and technology, has conferred far more leisure time, more vacation choices, freedom from back-breaking chores, new opportunities for sports from boating to sky diving, time to read, to visit, loaf, to engage in other interests than the daily job.

But the flood from technology is only beginning, and various experts predict on some tomorrow you will have:

Two-way wristwatch radios.. your own miniaturized TV transceiver to communicate with almost anyone anywhere, and "live" TV around the world thanks to communications satellites... typewriters that take dictation.

Some disposable clothes, discarded after one or two wearings... solar energy to help cool or warm your house... the chance to take a skiing holiday in January in Antarctica.

Soon you may marvel how you ever managed without your own home computer keeping instant track of how much money (hopefully) you have in the bank, figuring your income tax, reminding you of anniversaries.

Possible, says Dr. J. Presper Eckert of UNIVAC, is a system in which the housewife records in the computer items she wants at the store, as she thinks of them. The list is later relayed by computer to the store and the items are selected, packaged automatically for later pickup, with her account being billed, with the manager also informed about items that need replacement in his inventory.

Some authorities foresee computers that translate foreign languages, assist youngsters, with homework, or form the heart of electronic libraries delivering copies of pages of books into your living room via closed-circuit TV.

There is no limit to these or other possibilities, if people can afford them, want them or if costs come down.

Obviously an abundance of things does not spell happiness.

Aristocrats of old had their complaints — and modern man has his crop too.

"We don't understand, most of us, how all these gadgets work," the psychiatrist Dr. William Menninger observes. "We don't know how to fix the TV, which is killing personal conversation by the way. The car stalls, the vacuum cleaner goes 'pfft' — such things complicate our lives."

Many people feel under more stress and tension nowadays, they have more psychosomatic aches and pains.

But there is danger, says Dr. Seymour Farber of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, "of exaggerating the ill effects of stress and forgetting it is a natural part of living. Of what use is a bridge that bears no load? Or a mind that solves no problems?"

"Work, like life itself, is surely stressful, but boredom and idleness are more so. When stress does not overwhelm, when the organism rises to its challenge, health and creativity may result."

"We have all learned to hit the radio and kick the television set before calling the repairman."

"Our task is not to eliminate stress, but to cope with it healthily. We generate sparks when we are rubbed together in cities, but we must take care that these do not flare into social catastrophes," Dr. Farber warns.

City life, worry over nuclear annihilation, problems from automation, over education, population, these are some of the pressing concerns from the great revolution. And they call for solutions.

day techniques of camouflage.

There are still more barbers than men's hair stylists in these United States — some 300,000 of the basic type and some 18,000 of the newer clique. But the latter say their number is growing fast.

And they hope that the nation's youth training programs will produce a new flock of apprentice barbers. From such will be recruited the hair stylists of tomorrow. New schools are springing up to teach latter-day barbering techniques.

Both barbers and stylists will be gathering here next week for the annual national barber show. And there'll be a lot more on display than just shears, clippers and whisk brooms. New products include hair gels, hair setting lotions, sprays and dyes

— that's right, for masculine purchasers. And on display for the whiffing will be a host of bottles labeled "true masculine scents."

"The young barber of today has a chance to regain the high status of Figaro in Rossini's 'The Barber of Seville,'" Hal A. Salzman says.

"Then the barber was a prime consultant on high fashion, business and worldly affairs and even practiced dentistry and minor surgery."

Salzman wears three hats. He is president of Odell, which makes tonics and other preparations for the care of hair and scalp. He is chairman of the Tonsorial Information Council. And he is chairman of the Barber Shop Promotion Committee of Beauty, and Barbers Manufacturing Association.

Can You Remember When—

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is the opening of many doors.

One often opens them with trepidation, because they lead to situations one may never have faced before.

But there is a single door one may open without fear, confident of what lies on the other side. That is the door of memory. For most of us it becomes an increasing pleasure to open that door more often and take a restful mental stroll back down time's past corridor.

You've had a pretty long walk in that corridor yourself if you can remember when—

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN OSCAR LEVANT was still a youthful piano prodigy, and not drinking more than thirty cups of black coffee a day, he once fell into the hands of some professional card sharks who clipped him several times running for just about everything he had made between sessions. As he was paying up the last of many $500 payments, Levant suddenly declared, "I don't want to make a scene, but I think you fellows have been cheating me." The leader of the group admitted frankly, "Oscar we'd been planning it, but after seeing you play, we didn't have to."

A beautiful chick from a Broadway musical married a dyspeptic millionaire of seventy who, in due course, passed away and left her the fortune she had been counting on. She was loyal in her fashion, and at his funeral, even managed a few tears. "I'll say one thing about my late husband," she cheerfully conceded to the press. "Not one of the checks he gave me ever bounced."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Our son, who recently had his sixth birthday, is the subject of my letter.

Last year our family doctor examined him to see if there was some disorder to account for his continuous bed-wetting. He found nothing wrong.

Shortly after that he started school, and was fine for the first two months. Then, suddenly, not only the bed-wetting started again, but he soiled himself as well. Never did he have an accident at school, just at home.

We have tried everything. Buying him things, punishing him, ignoring it, spanking him. Although the wetting has stopped he still soils himself. I am at my wit's end.

This evening we told him we would take him away to a home and leave him there. He is at the moment packing his clothes as his father told him to do. He's ready to leave when my husband comes home.

The poor child must be scared to death. But my husband and I are hoping a good scare will correct him. He is a very good child in every other way.

We have three other children, a boy 9½ years, a girl 8 years and the baby 2 years old.

My heart aches for my son. Can you help this child? I am desperate.

Mrs. M.E., Pennsylvania
Dear Mrs. E.: It seems to me that hardly a day passes without a letter from one of my readers asking for help for a persistent bed-wetter.

All of them are written by desperate parents who love their children and who, like you, seem to have exhausted every possibility for helping them.

In almost every case, a complete physical examination has failed to show any defect to account for the persistent bed-wetting, technically known as "enuresis." Yet the bed-wetting continues.

Many parents, like you, say that they have "tried everything." Actually, they have failed to try the most important approach to the solution of the problem: the psychological reasons for this disturbance.

In your case, you have resorted to the most intense errors by "punishing him, ignoring him, spanking him," and now threatening to abandon him completely. I agree with you to this extent: the little fellow must certainly be "scared to death."

Good, kind, well-meaning parents like yourself will go on making these mistakes until they realize that the one thing they must do, and have not yet done, is to seek the help of a trained psychiatrist or psychologist who will unravel the complex emotional problems responsible for their child's bed-wetting.

There is one thing I can suggest until you find the proper psychological guidance for your child. Stop punishing and humiliating him. Surround him, instead, with love and patient understanding.

If you and your husband can do this, you have taken the first giant step towards restoring the security of your child and the happiness of your family.

Hospital visitors must realize that patients tire easily. Make your visit a short one.

Challenge of Change

Many Living Comforts Are Assured by Science

EDITOR'S NOTE: The past 20 years have brought TV sets, frozen foods, electric can openers and credit cards. The next generation may wonder how we eved did without a home computer, two-way wrist-watch-radios and disposable clothes. Associated Press Science Writer Alton Blakeslee explores the "comforts of living" which the technological revolution has brought in the third of a 10-part series on the scientific age.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

In comforts, conveniences, gadgets and available amusements, the average American today surpasses the rosiest dreams of kings and queens of yore.

A horn of plenty called technology has softened and enriched the lives and habits of most—but far from all—citizens to amazing degree, particularly in the last 20 brief years.

Reflect, for a moment, how bare your cupboard would be without the things and systems coming your way in only the last two decades or so:

You give up your TV even in black and white... wash-and-wear and crease-resistant clothing and other wondrous fabrics... transistorized radios... lightweight or sound-absorbing walls and ceilings installed by the do-it-yourselfer... hi-fi and stereo sets... humidifiers and dusttraps... an arsenal of weed and crabgrass killers, plant hormones and new insecticides for the suburbanite... power mowers...

Take away plastic hoses and wrappings... electric shavers, blankets, can openers and toothbrushes... detergents... automated reservation systems for hotels and air travel... most credit cards...

Our spiraling economic productivity, from science and technology, has conferred far more leisure time, more vacation choices, freedom from back-breaking chores, new opportunities for sports from boating to sky diving, time to read, to visit, loaf, to engage in other interests than the daily job.

But the flood from technology is only beginning, and various experts predict on some tomorrow you will have:

Two-way wristwatch radios... your own miniaturized TV transceiver to communicate with almost anyone anywhere, and "live" TV around the world thanks to communications satellites... typewriters that take dictation.

Some disposable clothes, discarded after one or two wearings... solar energy to help cool or warm your house... the chance to take a skiing holiday in January in Antarctica.

Soon you may marvel how you ever managed without your own home computer keeping instant track of how much money (hopefully) you have in the bank, figuring your income tax, reminding you of anniversaries.

Possible, says Dr. J. Presper Eckert of UNIVAC, is a system in which the housewife records in the computer items she wants at the store, as she thinks of them. The list is later relayed by computer to the store and the items are selected, packaged automatically for later pickup, with her account being billed, with the manager also informed about items that need replacement in his inventory.

Some authorities foresee computers that translate foreign languages, assist youngsters, with homework, or form the heart of electronic libraries delivering copies of pages of books into your living room via closed-circuit TV.

There is no limit to these or other possibilities, if people can afford them, want them or if costs come down.

Obviously an abundance of things does not spell happiness.

Aristocrats of old had their complaints — and modern man has his crop too.

"We don't understand, most of us, how all these gadgets work," the psychiatrist Dr. William Menninger observes, "we don't know how to fix the TV, which is killing personal conversation by the way. The car stalls, the vacuum cleaner goes 'pfft' — such things complicate our lives."

Many people feel under more stress and tension nowadays, they have more psychosomatic aches and pains.

But there is danger, says Dr. Seymour Farber of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, "of exaggerating the ill effects of stress and forgetting it is a natural part of living. Of what use is a bridge that bears no load? Or a mind that solves no problems?"

"Work, like life itself, is surely stressful, but boredom and idleness are more so. When stress does not overwhelm, when the organism rises to its challenge, health and creativity may result."

"We have all learned to the radio and kick the television set before calling the repairman."

"Our task is not to eliminate stress, but to cope with it healthily. We generate sparks when we are rubbed together in cities, but we must take care that these do not flare into social catastrophes," Dr. Farber warns.

City life, worry over nuclear annihilation, problems from automation, over education, pollution, these are some of the pressing concerns from the great revolution. And they are solutions.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

You Lost, Honey!

DEAR ABBY: I have had a crush on this neighbor kid for a long time, and just lately he started to notice me. I am 13½ and he is 15. One night about two weeks ago I was over at his house babysitting with his little sisters when he came home with a bunch of boys at about 11 p.m. They started making a lot of noise, so I told him to be quiet. He kept right on making noise, so I socked him on the arm. He just laughed, so I got sore and pushed him over and punched him real hard in the stomach. I guess I knocked the wind out of him. Anyway, he quit laughing, the other boys left, and he wouldn't even listen to me when I tried to apologize to him. I have seen him several times since then and he won't even look at me. How can I get him to like me again?

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: I don't blame him. You humiliated him in front of his friends. Perhaps in a few years he will forget the incident, and you can both laugh about it. But for now, if you are old enough to have a crush on a boy, you are old enough to learn a lesson. Don't match physical strength with a male. You can't win. If you win, you lose.

DEAR ABBY: Jimmy and I have been married for eight years. He is 33 and I am 29. We've been wanting a baby for the past five years, but every time we bring it up, my mother votes it down.

Jimmy has a good income, I am in good health, and I don't do anything but keep house, so there's no reason to put it off any longer. All we have to do is mention having a family and my mother gives us a lecture on how a baby will tie us down for the rest of our lives, and she says, "You are still babies yourselves."

Jim and I aren't getting any younger, Abby, but Mama and I have always been very close and I don't want to antagonize her. If I just went ahead, knowing how she feels, she'd be hurt and upset. I need some advice.

MAMA'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Your problem is you've been getting TOO MUCH advice. The decision should be yours and Jim's. Do not discuss it with your mother. Just flag down the stork and keep it quiet until you're sure he's headed for your house.

DEAR ABBY: I am considered an intelligent girl. I have an interest in other people, their habits (good and bad), their likes and dislikes, etc., so why shouldn't I talk them over with my friends?

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

You Lost, Honey!

DEAR ABBY: I have had a crush on this neighbor kid for a long time, and just lately he started to notice me. I am 13½ and he is 15. One night about two weeks ago I was over at his house babysitting with his little sisters when he came home with a bunch of boys at about 11 p.m. They started making a lot of noise, so I told him to be quiet. He kept right on making noise, so I socked him on the arm. He just laughed, so I got sore and pushed him over and punched him real hard in the stomach. I guess I knocked the wind out of him. Anyway, he quit laughing, the other boys left, and he wouldn't even listen to me when I tried to apologize to him. I have seen him several times since then and he won't even look at me. How can I get him to like me again?

SORRY
DEAR SORRY: I don't blame him. You humiliated him in front of his friends. Perhaps in a few years he will forget the incident, and you can both laugh about it. But for now, if you are old enough to have a crush on a boy, you are old enough to learn a lesson. Don't match physical strength with a male. You can't win. If you win, you lose.

DEAR ABBY: Jimmy and I have been married for eight years. He is 33 and I am 29. We've been wanting a baby for the past five years, but every time we bring it up, my mother votes it down.

Jimmy has a good income, I am in good health, and I don't do anything but keep house, so there's no reason to put it off any longer. All we have to do is mention having a family and my mother gives us a lecture on how a baby will tie us down for the rest of our lives, and she says, "You are still babies yourselves."

Jim and I aren't getting any younger, Abby, but Mama and I have always been very close and I don't want to antagonize her. If I just went ahead, knowing how she feels, she'd be hurt and upset. I need some advice.

MAMA'S GIRL
DEAR GIRL: Your problem is you've been getting TOO MUCH advice. The decision should be yours and Jim's. Do not discuss it with your mother. Just flag down the stork and keep it quiet until you're sure he's headed for your house.

DEAR ABBY: I am considered an intelligent girl. I have an interest in other people, their habits (good and bad), their likes and dislikes, etc., so why shouldn't I talk them over with my friends?

When my mother hears me talking about someone, she gets furious and tells me not to gossip. She says I shouldn't even repeat things I hear about people because I can't always be sure they're true, and even if your closest friend promises she won't say anything, it can always "leak out." Abby, if you are positively sure that what you say is true, is that gossip? I still can't see why it is so terrible to discuss the actions of others with your friends.

DISCUSSES PEOPLE
DEAR DISCUSSES: Other people's business—true or false—is gossip. Have you ever played the old parlor game called "Telephone"? Several people sit in a circle. One whispers something hurriedly into the ear of the one seated beside him. The "message" is passed on in this fashion until it finally gets back to the originator. Invariably the message is so distorted it bears no resemblance whatsoever to what started to make the rounds. This is what happens to gossip. And when it "leaks out," someone is apt to find herself in hot water. Listen to your mother, honey. Intelligent people talk about ideas—not other people.

Cleric Finds Army Duty
Gives Insight into Reality

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP)—Chaplain John E. Carter believes service by ministers in the Army Reserve makes them more effective pastors because it keeps them in closer touch with the realities of the world.

Chaplain Carter, assistant 100th Division training chaplain and pastor of the Okolona Baptist church near Louisville, was one of 11 chaplains on active duty for two weeks with the Army Reserve division.

"I come out here for two weeks with people who let their hair down and when I return I know that I am talking to the same people," he said.

"In civilian life, if you are not careful you will find yourself surrounded only by the best people, morally at least, and if you are not careful you will think that all the world is like this. You will get a twisted view.

"You are face to face with reality at summer training and can be a more effective pastor and preacher. It is not that these people are any worse, it's just that you didn't know them."

Chaplain Carter and four other chaplains in the 100th had Army service before becoming chaplains. He was an Army Air Corps sergeant major, a graduate of Infantry Officer Candidate School and an infantry officer in the 100th for four years.

Division Chaplain Hugh B. Goldsby of the Lyndon Baptist church and an armor lieutenant in Europe in 1944-46, said one of the main jobs at summer training is counseling basic trainees and reservists from their hometown units.

Chaplain Goldsby said the main difference in Army and civilian problems brought for counseling is that more soldiers are trying to run away physically.

Local Baha'i Group
Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "A century ago, Baha'u'llah taught that the true seeker after truth must search for himself. He must open his eyes, not shut them; use his reason, not suppress it. It is clear seeing and free thinking, not servile credulity, that will enable him to penetrate the clouds of prejudice, to shake off the fetters of blind imitation, and attain to the realization of the truth of a new Revelation.

"The source of all learning is a knowledge of God; and this can not be attained save through the knowledge of His divine manifestation."

ly. "Few men are trying to leave home," he said. "But they try to escape responsibility inwardly by quitting their jobs or getting drunk for three or four days."

Chaplain Carter said the training in counseling also is a dividend to churches for the time they give ministers to attend Reserve training.

He said summer training provides a refresher course in counseling that few ministers are able to get after seminary graduation because the Army teaches the latest counseling techniques.

PERSONAL call

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity... and peace of mind seems very far away.

Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.

That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.

This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call... for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

These days, our minds are as busy as switchboards! There are so many things to think about, at work, at school or at home. Even our leisure hours often require a lot of mental activity... and peace of mind seems very far away.

Yet peace of mind is possible for us all, when we turn to God for relief from the tensions of modern living. He is fully aware of all our problems and difficulties, and He is always ready to lead us to a greater serenity of spirit than we have ever known.

That is why, when we take a little time from our busy lives to attend church, we leave feeling refreshed and strengthened. We have shared in His divine gift of peace.

This Sunday, God's call to a new and certain way of meeting the pressures of life is a personal call... for you.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Caleb: Facing the Difficult

THE REWARDS OF UNWAVERING FAITH IN GOD

Scripture—Numbers 13:1-14:38; Joshua 14:6-15.

By R. H. RAMSEY
NO NORMAL man wants to fail in life, but success sometimes demands a high price, and some men, not willing to pay that price, forfeit success and find themselves in an ever-deepening morass of failure.

The life of Caleb, however, was a tremendous success because he started right to begin with and continued always to seek and follow the will of God. He was courageous, steadfast, an individual who refused to yield to difficulties and went through life doing hard things.

When he died, at an advanced age, it was in the fullness of strength, conquering the enemies of Israel, Caleb, who disciplined himself and pressed for moral as well as military victories, is an inspiring example to all who are seeking the better way of life.

We first meet this mighty man of faith in Numbers 13. Moses had been divinely instructed that each of the tribes of Israel should choose a man of consequence among them to commend immediate invasion. He had a deep moral conviction about the land and he stated it, even though it meant taking a stand against ten "brethren" and turning in a minority report. For such a man as Caleb, to have done otherwise would have violated his principles and made him a moral coward. He had the courage of his conviction and the spirit of an overcomer.

As reward, Caleb and Joshua were stoned by the congregation.

Because of her refusal to believe God and enter into the Promised Land, God decreed punishment for all of Israel, save Caleb and Joshua. They were doomed to wander 40 years in the wilderness, until all the adults were dead. Then Caleb and Joshua would lead the children into the land of Canaan.

Though the land of Canaan had been promised the Hebrews by God, it was not handed to them on a silver platter. There was no red carpet upon which they were invited to enter and possess it without effort. They had to fight for every inch they possessed, for five long years.

When the land was divided by lot, most of the Israelites were wearied of wars and wanderings. They wanted only peace and security. Not so Caleb. Of all the Israelites, Caleb had the most right to select some lush valley where he and his descendants could live in peace. But Caleb was not that type of man. The old fighter wanted nothing more than to keep up his fight to the end.

There was a high mountain on which the marauding Anakim still dwelled and this was the land Caleb asked for.

Realizing there would be no peace in the land until the Anakim were destroyed, Caleb asked for the mountain and a band of brave men to drive them out as the Lord had promised.

Caleb was an unconquerable spirit. His virtues were of the rough-and-ready variety. He hated evil, trusted God, and was ever willing to do his part in carrying out God's will. Can modern-day Christians do less?

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."—Philippians 4:13.

be sent as a spy into the land of Canaan.

Caleb, picked by the tribe of Judah, and Joshua, from the tribe of Ephraim, explored the land from the wilderness of Zin, in southern Palestine, to Rehob, in the extreme north. On their return, at the Valley of Eshcol, they cut off a branch with a cluster of grapes so large that it had to be suspended on a rod as both men were needed to carry it.

Returning, all 12 spies agreed that the land was indeed flowing with milk and honey, as rumors had indicated; that the cities there were fortified and occupied by an unusually strong race of people, the children of Anak. From this point on, though, the reports differed. Ten of the spies painted such a gloomy, foreboding picture that the people became frightened, wept, and talked of returning to Egypt.

Now Caleb stepped in. Seconded by Joshua, and trusting wholly in God and His promise that the Israelites would occupy the land of Canaan, Caleb returned to the people and said: "The land we have explored is a very good land. If you will only enter it, you will possess it without effort. They had to fight for every inch they possessed, for five long years.

When the land was divided by lot, most of the Israelites were wearied of wars and wanderings. They wanted only peace and security. Not so Caleb. Of all the Israelites, Caleb had the most right to select some lush valley where he and his descendants could live in peace. But Caleb was not that type of man. Harvard Prexy Joins Theological Study

NEW YORK (AP)—Harvard University President Nathan M. Pusey has accepted the chairmanship of a committee of Episcopal theologians and laymen doing a two-year study on how the Church can "fit the present conditions of society."

The American victory at New Orleans, coming after the War of 1812 was over, had far-reaching effects, historians say. They say it hastened ratification of the peace treaty, increased the prestige of a new nation, gave Americans confidence in their military prowess and encouraged the growth of national unity.

This is South-Central Country ... and the Old Man's, too.

Hocking County—one of the most scenic of the 88—is South-Central Country—served with electric power by South-Central. The Old Man? Well, he guards a cave in the spectacular Hocking State Park area, where can also be found Ash Cave, Rock House, Cantwell Cliffs, Conkle's Hollow, and Cedar Falls.

Formed in 1818, Hocking County takes its name from the Hocking River. Hocking is an Indian term, meaning "bottle-neck." Its county seat is Logan—termed the "Holiday Headquarters for South-eastern Ohio". The county's population edges just over 20,000—with most of its working population engaged in light industry and farming. While not among the richest counties in the state, it is rich in natural beauty and the summer months find thousands of vacationers traveling to the lakes and forests in the area.

South-Central is proud to be a part of Hocking County, proud to supply the electric power that makes living easier, that supports the agricultural, industrial and tourism facilities of the county.

South-Central—a progressive-minded utility—owned by its member consumers in Hocking County and in ten others in south-central Ohio—all a part of South-Central Country.

Harvard Prexy Joins
Theological Study
NEW YORK (AP)—Harvard University President Nathan M. Pusey has accepted the chairmanship of a committee of Episcopal theologians and laymen doing a two-year study on how the Church can "fit the present conditions of society."

The American victory at New Orleans, coming after the War of 1812 was over, had far-reaching effects, historians say. They say it hastened ratification of the peace treaty, increased the prestige of a new nation, gave Americans confidence in their military prowess and encouraged the growth of national unity.

This is South-Central Country
... and the Old Man's, too.

Hocking County — one of the most scenic of the 88 — is South-Central Country — served with electric power by South-Central. The Old Man? Well, he guards a cave in the spectacular Hocking State Park area, where can also be found Ash Cave, Rock House, Cantwell Cliffs, Conkle's Hollow, and Cedar Falls.

Formed in 1818, Hocking County takes its name from the Hocking River. Hocking is an Indian term, meaning "bottle-neck." Its county seat is Logan — termed the "Holiday Headquarters for South-eastern Ohio."

The county's population edges just over 20,000 — with most of its working population engaged in light industry and farming. While not among the richest counties in the state, it is rich in natural beauty and the summer months find thousands of vacationers traveling to the lakes and forests in the area.

South-Central is proud to be a part of Hocking County, proud to supply the electric power that makes living easier, that supports the agricultural, industrial and tourism facilities of the county.

South-Central — a progressive-minded utility — owned by its member consumers in Hocking County and in ten others in south-central Ohio — all a part of South-Central Country.

Why Should I?

By BRENDA DOWNING

"What's the use?" and "Why should I?" are the two most fatal phrases in the English language. They mark the dividing line between success and failure for hundreds of thousands of students.

"What's the use?" is the philosophy of the student who throws in the sponge when the battle has just started. He sits down alongside the road when he finds that the signpost deceived him — instead of lengthening his stride. He is satisfied with "good enough." He has no goals, no visions. He accepts no challenge.

"Why should I?" is the cry of the lazy student. His aim is to do just enough to "get by." He is a clock watcher who is afraid he will do a bit too much. He is too lazy to think, too selfish to put his shoulder to the wheel for his own good.

How much more vibrant and dynamic are the phrases, "It can be done!" and "I'm the one who can do it!" These phrases sparkle with the spirit of success. What a pity it is that the "Why should I?" student has spent so many years in school and has failed to understand the world or himself.

Wednesday afternoon when CHS doors burst open, the air was fairly crackling with excitement. Its brisk coolness lightened the hearts of all. It's hard to explain the feeling of excitement one experiences when walking from the high school with a group of friends.

821 students attend CHS and many participate in the various activities of the big show. Students have 4-H projects, which require a lot of work. Some will be marching in the band, others work in booths and on floats, while still others enter contests and art exhibits.

Excitement, competition and entertainment is only a part of the thrilling Pumpkin Show. Cotton-candy french-fries, candy apples, pumpkin-pies and delicious caramel corn add to the mouth watering aromas of the downtown area. New romances, screams of laughter, triumphant sounding bands, crying children, and even the familiar sounds of the pets in the pet parade remind us that once again the Pumpkin Show is here!

Director Says Play Casting Is Difficult

By SUSAN THOMPSON

This week the Journalism Class has asked Ron Mead, the musical director of "Around the World in Eighty Days", to give his opinion of the fitness of the cast for their parts as evidenced in the first rehearsals.

Of this he said, "Casting a musical from such a small body of students is not the easiest task in the world.

"First, Glenn Plum (my student director) and I had to select the best singers from those who tried-out. Secondly, we selected the best actors from the singers. Thirdly, it was necessary for us to match the actors with the characters in the play according to their own size, personality, and singing ability. For example, Deward Shaffer was selected for the role of "Passepartout" (the clown) because he himself is a humorous fellow. Now the work begins!"

New Teacher Is Graduate Of Otterbein

By BARB MACKENZIE

"As a new teacher here at CHS, I feel that the students and faculty are really willing to help out." Miss Marty, the girls' physical education teacher, lives at 141 E. Union St. She hails from Hannibal, Ohio and Otterbein College. She also says, "The physical education course at Otterbein College is really tremendous!"

While at Otterbein Miss Marty majored in physical education and health and minored in Spanish. She likes teaching physical education because of the informal classroom and the opportunity to get to know the kids.

Miss Marty likes all music (except rock and roll), reading mysteries, ice skating, and all sports except basketball. Her only dislikes are spinach and animals in the house.

Miss Marty is a member of the United Church of Christ and also attends the Presbyterian Church in Westerville, Ohio.

When asked her opinions of Circleville and CHS she replied: "I like Circleville. It is the biggest place I have ever lived. In Hannibal I was reared on a farm. But — the pep assemblies here at CHS are boring because the kids don't yell. Why?"

Some day Miss Marty is going to write a book on the great variety of excuses handed in by students not wanting to take showers. It promises to be one of the funniest books ever, so girls — watch those excuses!

He sits down alongside the road when he finds that the signpost deceived him — instead of lengthening his stride. He is satisfied with "good enough." He has no goals, no visions. He accepts no challenge.

"Why should I?" is the cry of the lazy student. His aim is to do just enough to "get by." He is a clock watcher who is afraid he will do a bit too much. He is too lazy to think, too selfish to put his shoulder to the wheel for his own good.

How much more vibrant and dynamic are the phrases, "It can be done!" and "I'm the one who can do it!" These phrases sparkle with the spirit of success. What a pity it is that the "Why should I?" student has spent so many years in school and has failed to understand the world or himself.

Wednesday afternoon when CHS doors burst open, the air was fairly crackling with excitement. Its brisk coolness lightened the hearts of all. It's hard to explain the feeling of excitement one experiences when walking from the high school with a group of friends.

821 students attend CHS and many participate in the various activities of the big show. Students have 4-H projects, which require a lot of work. Some will be marching in the band, others work in booths and on floats, while still others enter contests and art exhibits.

Excitement, competition and entertainment is only a part of the thrilling Pumpkin Show. Cotton-candy french-fries, candy apples, pumpkin-pies and delicious caramel corn add to the mouth watering aromas of the downtown area. New romances, screams of laughter, triumphant sounding bands, cry-

Director Says Play Casting Is Difficult

By SUSAN THOMPSON

This week the Journalism Class has asked Ron Mead, the musical director of "Around the World in Eighty Days", to give his opinion of the fitness of the cast for their parts as evidenced in the first rehearsals.

Of this he said, "Casting a musical from such a small body of students is not the easiest task in the world.

"First, Glenn Plum (my student director) and I had to select the best singers from those who tried-out. Secondly, we selected the best actors from the singers. Thirdly, it was necessary for us to match the actors with the characters in the play according to their own size, personality, and singing ability. For example, Edward Shaffer was selected for the role of "Passepartout" (the clown) because he himself is a humorous fellow. Now the work begins!"

New Teacher Is Graduate Of Otterbein

By BARB MACKENZIE

"As a new teacher here at CHS, I feel that the students and faculty are really willing to help out," Miss Marty, the girls' physical education teacher, lives at 141 E. Union St. She hails from Hannibal, Ohio and Otterbein College. She also says, "The physical education course at Otterbein College is really tremendous!"

While at Otterbein Miss Marty majored in physical education and health and minored in Spanish. She likes teaching physical education because of the informal classroom and the opportunity to get to know the kids.

Miss Marty likes all music (except rock and roll), reading mysteries, ice skating, and all sports except basketball. Her only dislikes are spinach and animals in the house.

Miss Marty is a member of the United Church of Christ and also attends the Presbyterian Church in Westerville, Ohio.

MISS MARTY

When asked her opinions of Circleville and CHS she replied: "I like Circleville. It is the biggest place I have ever lived. In Hannibal I was reared on a farm. But — the pep assemblies here at CHS are boring because the kids don't yell. Why?"

Some day Miss Marty is going to write a book on the great variety of excuses handed in by students not wanting to take showers. It promises to be one of the funniest books ever, so girls — watch those excuses!

AP Guesspert Picks Giants Over Browns

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The trading season is over and the National Football League shapes up as a two-team race in each conference. Green Bay and Baltimore look like the class of the West and St. Louis and Cleveland the best in the East.

Buffalo is practically in with two non-winners in the American Football League's Eastern Division. San Diego appears headed for the title in the West.

Another good week, 7-2-2, left the season totals at 28-7 in the NFL and 11-5-3 in the AFL for an over-all 39-12-3 and a little protection for the day when the roof caves in. Let's try again (all games Sunday afternoon unless otherwise noted).

NFL
Green Bay 21, Dallas 13- The only game the Packers have lost in 10 starts was a 21-12 decision to Dallas in an Aug. 28 exhibition game. Bart Starr having a good year with eight TDs and only two interceptions and Packer defense should give Don Meredith rough afternoon. It's about time for Packers' running game to click.

Baltimore 31, Los Angeles 14- Swede Svara experimenting with rookie linebacks. John Unitas hitting Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr consistently and Rams are last in pass defense.

Philadelphia 28, Pittsburgh 17- Norm Snead still out so King Hill has to carry load for Eagles again with kicker Sam Baker also doubtful. Steelers' Bill Nelsen hasn't hit with a TD pass yet and now Gary Ballman is out. Another big day for Tim Brown.

St. Louis 24, Washington 7- Buddy Humphrey should be able to guide Cards past Skins and Charley Johnson can play if needed badly despite injured left shoulder.

Chicago 28, Detroit 24- The Bears have made a believer out of this fellow. Gale Sayers too hot to handle. Lions hurting in defensive backfield with Jimmy Hill and Bob Thompson doubtful.

San Francisco 28, Minnesota 27- Yeah, that close. One of week's toughest. Give 49ers edge at home. John Brodie getting great protection but Vikings' strong running game with Tommy Mason and Bill Brown will test 49er defense. It comes down to Vikings' leaky pass defense vs. Brodie's pitching.

New York 24, Cleveland 21- Long-shot chance of the week. It can be a Cleveland romp if Giant rookies don't contain Jim Brown and cover Frank Ryan's targets. Look for Browns to throw to tight end John Brewer and pick on Henry Carr. If Earl Morrall is on target, bombs away! A close win for the Giants or a runaway for Browns.

AFL
San Diego 21, New York 14 (Saturday night)- The team that thumped Buffalo should romp over the Jets but those hot-and-cold Chargers can be inconsistent. Remember that 13-13 tie with non-winning Boston last week?

Oakland 24, Boston 14- Raiders come home after three-game road trip that ended with 24-24 tie against Jets. Al Davis' boys beat Boston 24-10 on the road and should do it again with Art Graham out of Pats' lineup-up. Fred Biletnikoff takes over job vacated by Bo Robertson traded to Buffalo.

Buffalo 21, Denver 17- This can be a tough one for the Bills whose offense has been shoddy since loss of Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass. Addition of Bo Robertson should help and there's always Pete Gogolak. Kansas City 14, Houston 10- The Oilers haven't lost at home but they dropped their last three on the road and are switching to Don Trull as starter over George Blanda. Chiefs' offense spotty but defense solid enough to stop Oilers.

Kent-BG Tilt Tops Ohio Grid Card

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Kent State battles Bowling Green Saturday in the Buckeye State's top collegiate football game of the day.

First place in the Mid-American Conference hangs on the outcome as the two teams square off before an expected 20,000 in Kent's Memorial Stadium.

Elsewhere, Ohio State, bolstered by the return of linebacker Ike Kelley, invades Madison for a Big Ten skirmish against Wisconsin, and Ohio University visits Miami and Toledo plays host to Western Michigan in two other Mid-Am clashes.

The Bucks, trying to bounce back after a 32-7 setback to powerful Michigan State, face a Badger team that sports a 2-0 mark in the conference.

Kelley, injured in the Spartan game, was feared lost for Wisconsin but his gimpy knee has responded to treatment.

Ohio State is 1-1 in the league and needs a victory to retain any hopes for a championship. Wisconsin, picked to finish last, has been the surprise team in the loop.

Kent Coach Leo Strang and Falcon boss Bob Gibson agree on one thing about Saturday's key Mid-American tussle — it's a crucial game for both sides.

Kent (2-0-1) will be out to atone for a 41-0 setback administered by the Falcons last year. Bowling Green (2-0) continues to win but has not been impressive.

Miami (2-1) needs a triumph over winless Ohio U. to stay in the thick of things.

The Redskins, with Bruce Matte at the controls, got their offense in high gear last week in a 28-7 romp over Marshall.

Cincinnati (3-2) travels to Tulsa for a Missouri Valley tiff with the pass - happy Hurricanes.

In the top Ohio Conference attractions of the day, Capital plays at Akron and Muskingum (4-0) bids to tighten its grip on first place at Wooster.

Ohio OC teams in action pit Wittenberg at Heidelberg; Denison at Oberlin, Mt. Union at

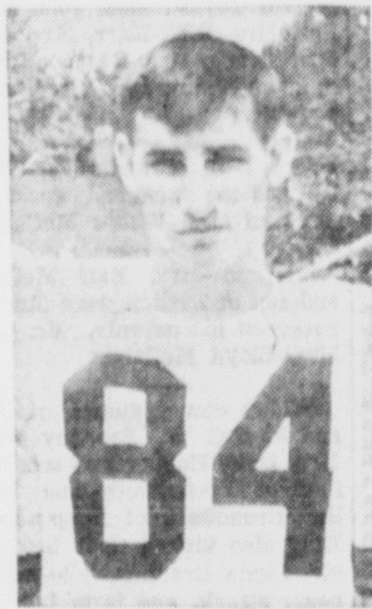

Hiram and Marietta at Otterbein (n).

Unbeaten Xavier (5-0) shoots for its sixth straight at Chattanooga in a night tilt and all-winning Youngstown (5-0) is home to Baldwin-Wallace.

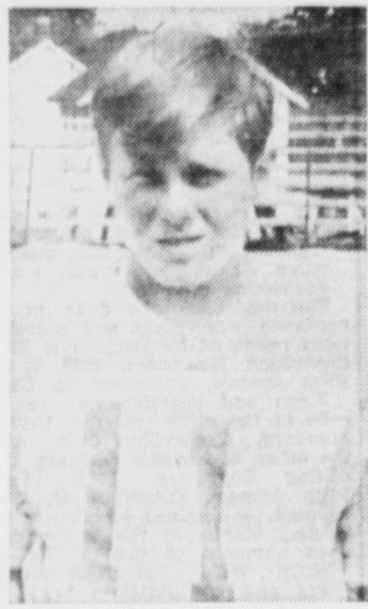

Dayton, which has scored only one touchdown in five defeats, plays at Buffalo and Findlay (5-0) plays host to Eastern Kentucky, the only team to beat the Oilers last season.

The others:
Bluffton at Defiance; Ohio Northern at Ashland; Kenyon at Wilmington; John Carroll at Case; Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash; Central State at Kentucky State and Western Reserve at Washington & Jefferson.

Meet the Tigers

Bill Gates is a 5-9, 145-pound sophomore end candidate on the Circleville High School football team and Bob McNelly is a 5-8, 137-pound tailback prospect. Gates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Gates, 290 Lewis Road. McNelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNelly, 325 Avon Drive.

3 Fullbacks Lead SCO in Yards Gained

WILMINGTON — Three bruising fullbacks are carrying the lions share of their team's offensive attacks in the South Central Ohio League to date.

Bob Gifford of Miami Trace, Dave Murphy of Wilmington, and Mike Ramey of Circleville are the top three leaders in the individual scoring department. They are running in the same order in total yards rushing.

Senior Gifford has carried 65 times for the Panthers and amassed a total of 391 yards. Miami Trace has racked up a total of 760 yards against three league opponents. Gifford's average is just over 6 yards per carry.

At Wilmington, Junior Murphy has toted the pigskin 77 times for 320 yards, a 4.15 average.

Ramey's teammate, Howard Dade, although held to a single touchdown and 8 points for Circleville in three league contests, has run for 235 yards. Ramey has an even 200 yards gained.

Wilmington will be a heavy favorite to clinch at least a share of the title at Greenfield Friday night. Circleville travels to Hillsboro.

The Tigers, already knocked from the title picture for which they were the pre-season favorite, will be plenty tough to handle for the remainder of the season.

Their fourth-quarter loss to the Wilmington Hurricane last Friday was one of the finest displays of "pad cracking" football played in the SCOL for quite some time.

At Miami Trace this week, Washington C.H. will find themselves the underdog for the first time ever in the battle between the two Fayette County squads.

Cross Country Track Team Has 'Winning Season'

The Circleville High School Cross Country track team boosted its record to 4-2 with wins this week over Whitehall and Hilliard.

Tuesday, the Tiger harriers defeated a visiting Ram unit, 22-37. Yesterday the local distance runners were at Hilliard, winning 24-35.

With only one regular season meet remaining, the CHS team will finish with a winning record. In the three years Circleville has competed in cross country, this is the first winning season, according to coach Dave LaBounty.

Tuesday, the race over the Pickaway Fairgrounds was won by Whitehall's Gary Turner in a time of 10:30. Larry Morgan finished second in 10:54, Jimmy Diltz was third in 10:56, Robbie Adkins fourth in 10:57, Mike Martindale fifth in 11:00.

SIXTH PLACE went to Gary Keene of Whitehall and Gregg Bontempo was seventh for the visitors.

Rounding out the Circleville entries were John Butts, who was eighth in 11:18, Mel Smith ninth in 11:26, and Joe Winner, tenth in 11:30.

Yesterday, although Bob Hall of Hilliard was first in the race, John Butts finished in 11:22 and Robbie Adkins in 11:30 to give the Tigers second and third.

Tiger Regains Boxing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jabbing Joey Archer or even ancient Sugar Ray Robinson may be the next title opponent for Dick Tiger, the recrowned middle-weight champion of the world.

"I will fight anyone my managers name because I intend to keep busy," the 36-year-old Nigerian said today as he celebrated his clearcut, unanimous victory over defending champion Joey Giardello here last night in a return 15-round.

"Fighting is my main business," said Tiger, who owns seven apartment houses in his native land. "I was determined to beat Giardello. Nothing was going to stop me. I went out with all I had from the opening bell. I knew I had him in the first round."

He was flown to Walter Reed General Hospital at Washington Thursday, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The death is the 22nd high school football fatality this season.

was fourth, and then Mike Martindale, Jim Diltz, were fifth and sixth with times of 11:42 and 11:46 respectively. Eighth, ninth and tenth places went to Circleville with Mel Smith, Joe Winner and Larry Morgan finishing in that order.

Circleville's depth and consistency have been a key factor in the good season according to LaBounty, who said many of the CHS harriers had "been pleasant surprises" this year.

A week from today they close the season at Raymond Memorial Golf Course where the district meet is being held.

Death Takes Third Tennessee Coach

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charles Rash, 28, assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee, died in a hospital here early today of injuries suffered Monday in a railroad crossing accident.

Two other Tennessee assistant coaches, William B. (Bill) Majors, 26, and Robert T. (Bob) Jones, 30, were killed outright when a Southern Railway passenger train struck a car in which they were riding.

Rash, offensive line coach on Head Coach Doug Dickey's staff, suffered severe head injuries and doctors held out little hope for his recovery.

A standout lineman at the University of Missouri in 1956-58, Rash began his coaching career at his alma mater. He served as line coach at the Air Force Academy from 1961 to the spring of 1964 when he joined the Tennessee staff.

Arnette Trimmed From Royals Roster

CINCINNATI (AP) — Guard Jay Arnette was placed on waivers Thursday by the Cincinnati Royals. Arnette had been with the pro basketball club the last two seasons.

He was the Royals' No. 2 draft choice in 1960 after playing for the University of Texas. He averaged 6.3 points a game in 63 appearances last year.

The action trimmed the Royals' roster to 12, the number the club is permitted to carry.

Michigan State's Defense Faces Air-Minded Purdue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State must carry its "minus" defense from the ground to the air against Purdue Saturday if it hopes to retain its lofty position in the college football rankings.

The Spartans, the No. 2 team in the nation, travel to Lafayette, Ind., to take on the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. In another clash between Top Ten teams, Southern California, No. 4, meets Notre Dame, No. 7, at South Bend, Ind.

In extending its record to 5-0, Michigan State has held its past two opponents, Michigan and Ohio State, to minus yardage on the ground.

Michigan lost 29 yards rushing while Ohio State lost 22 yards, the first time in history the Buckeyes' vaunted running game had turned out negatively.

But Purdue, 4-0-1, is primarily a passing team, with Bob Griese sparking the attack. Griese is the third-leading passer in the nation, having thrown for 1,111 yards in five games. He also has tossed for nine of the Boilermakers' 14 touchdowns.

"This is definitely one of the finest teams we will play all year," said Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty. "It will take a 100 per cent performance by all players to win this one."

Michigan State has a strong offense to go along with its defense. The Spartans are the 10th best offensive team, Purdue is 11th. The battle also will affect the standings in the Big Ten since Michigan State is 3-0 and Purdue 2-0 in conference play.

Notre Dame will be out to return the favor Southern California gave the Irish last season. The teams played in the last game of the season, and when it was over unbeaten Notre Dame no longer was unbeaten.

This season the Trojans have been won four straight games after tying Minnesota in the opener, while the Irish have lost only to Purdue in four starts.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 1 p.m. EST.

Four of the remaining six Top Ten teams play night games. Top-ranked Arkansas takes on North Texas State, fifth-ranked Texas meets Rice, Louisiana

San Diego 21, New York 14 (Saturday night)- The team that thumped Buffalo should romp over the Jets but those hot-and-cold Chargers can be inconsistent. Remember that 13-13 tie with non-winning Boston last week?

Oakland 24, Boston 14- Raiders come home after three-game road trip that ended with 24-24 tie against Jets. Al Davis' boys beat Boston 24-10 on the road and should do it again with Art Graham out of Pats' lineup-up. Fred Biletnikoff takes over job vacated by Bo Roberson traded to Buffalo.

Buffalo 21, Denver 17- This can be a tough one for the Bills whose offense has been shoddy since loss of Elbert Dubenion and Glenn Bass. Addition of Bo Roberson should help and there's always Pete Gogolak. Kansas City 14, Houston 10- The Oilers haven't lost at home on the road and are switching to Don Trull as starter over George Blanda. Chiefs' offense spotty but defense solid enough to stop Oilers.

Kent-BG Tilt Tops Ohio Grid Card

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Kent State battles Bowling Green Saturday in the Buckeye State's top collegiate football game of the day.

First place in the Mid-American Conference hangs on the outcome as the two teams square off before an expected 20,000 in Kent's Memorial Stadium.

Elsewhere, Ohio State, bolstered by the return of linebacker Ike Kelley, invades Madison for a Big Ten skirmish against Wisconsin, and Ohio University visits Miami and Toledo plays host to Western Michigan in two other Mid-Am clashes.

The Bucks, trying to bounce back after a 32-7 setback to powerful Michigan State, face a Badger team that sports a 2-0 mark in the conference.

Kelley, injured in the Spartan game, was feared lost for Wisconsin but his gimpy knee has responded to treatment.

Ohio State is 1-1 in the league and needs a victory to retain any hopes for a championship. Wisconsin, picked to finish last, has been the surprise team in the loop.

Kent Coach Leo Strang and Falcon boss Bob Gibson agree on one thing about Saturday's key Mid-American tussle — it's a crucial game for both sides.

Kent (2-0-1) will be out to atone for a 41-0 setback administered by the Falcons last year. Bowling Green (2-0) continues to win but has not been impressive.

Miami (2-1) needs a triumph over winless Ohio U. to stay in the thick of things.

The Redskins, with Bruce Matte at the controls, got their offense in high gear last week in a 28-7 romp over Marshall.

Cincinnati (3-2) travels to Tulsa for a Missouri Valley tiff with the pass - happy Hurricanes.

In the top Ohio Conference attractions of the day, Capital plays at Akron and Muskingum (4-0) bids to tighten its grip on first place at Wooster.

Ohio OC teams in action pit Wittenberg at Heidelberg; Denison at Oberlin, Mt. Union at

Hiram and Marietta at Otterbein (n).

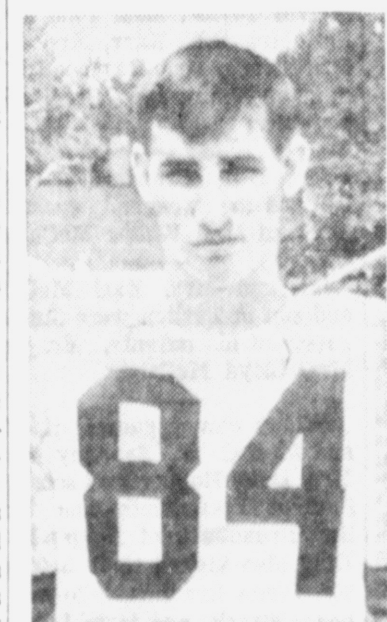

Unbeaten Xavier (5-0) shoots for its sixth straight at Chattanooga in a night tilt and all-winning Youngstown (5-0) is home to Baldwin-Wallace.

Dayton, which has scored only one touchdown in five defeats, plays at Buffalo and Findlay (5-0) plays host to Eastern Kentucky, the only team to beat the Oilers last season.

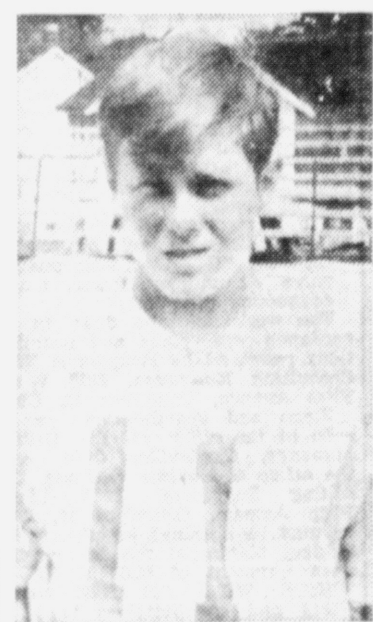

The others:

Bluffton at Defiance; Ohio Northern at Ashland; Kenyon at Wilmington; John Carroll at Case; Ohio Wesleyan at Wabash; Central State at Kentucky State and Western Reserve at Washington & Jefferson.

Meet the Tigers

Bill Gates is a 5-9, 145-pound sophomore end candidate on the Circleville High School football team and Bob McNeley is a 5-8, 137-pound tailback prospect. Gates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Gates, 290 Lewis Road. McNeley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McNeley, 325 Avon Drive.

3 Fullbacks Lead SCO in Yards Gained

WILMINGTON — Three bruising fullbacks are carrying the lions share of their team's offensive attacks in the South Central Ohio League to date.

Bob Gifford of Miami Trace, Dave Murphy of Wilmington, and Mike Ramey of Circleville are the top three leaders in the individual scoring department. They are running in the same order in total yards rushing.

Senior Gifford has carried 65 times for the Panthers and amassed a total of 391 yards. Miami Trace has racked up a total of 760 yards against three league opponents. Gifford's average is just over 6 yards per carry.

At Wilmington, Junior Murphy has toted the pigskin 77 times for 320 yards, a 4.15 average.

Ramey's teammate, Howard Dade, although held to a single touchdown and 8 points for Circleville in three league contests, has run for 235 yards. Ramey has an even 200 yards gained.

Wilmington will be a heavy favorite to clinch at least a share of the title at Greenfield Friday night. Circleville travels to Hillsboro.

The Tigers, already knocked from the title picture for which they were the pre-season favorite, will be plenty tough to handle for the remainder of the season.

Their fourth-quarter loss to the Wilmington Hurricane last Friday was one of the finest displays of "pad cracking" football played in the SCOL for quite some time.

At Miami Trace this week, Washington C.H. will find themselves the underdog for the first time ever in the battle between the two Fayette County squads.

Cross Country Track Team Has 'Winning Season'

The Circleville High School Cross Country track team boosted its record to 4-2 with wins this week over Whitehall and Hilliard.

Tuesday, the Tiger harriers defeated a visiting Ram unit, 22-37. Yesterday the local distance runners were at Hilliard, winning 24-35.

With only one regular season meet remaining, the CHS team will finish with a winning record. In the three years Circleville has competed in cross country, this is the first winning season, according to coach Dave LaBounty.

Tuesday, the race over the Pickaway Fairgrounds was won by Whitehall's Gary Turner in a time of 10:30. Larry Morgan finished second in 10:54, Jimmy Diltz was third in 10:56, Robbie Adkins fourth in 10:57, Mike Martindale fifth in 11:00.

SIXTH PLACE went to Gary Keene of Whitehall and Gregg Bontempo was seventh for the visitors.

Rounding out the Circleville entries were John Butts, who was eighth in 11:18, Mel Smith ninth in 11:26, and Joe Winner, tenth in 11:30.

Yesterday, although Bob Hall of Hilliard was first in the race, John Butts finished in 11:22 and Robbie Adkins in 11:30 to give the Tigers second and third.

Tiger Regains Boxing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Jabbing Joey Archer or even ancient Sugar Ray Robinson may be the next title opponent for Dick Tiger, the renowned middle-weight champion of the world.

"I will fight anyone my managers name because I intend to keep busy," the 36-year-old Nigerian said today as he celebrated his clearcut, unanimous victory over defending champion Joey Giardello here last night in a return 15-rounder.

"Fighting is my main business," said Tiger, who owns seven apartment houses in his native land. "I was determined to beat Giardello. Nothing was going to stop me. I went out with all I had from the opening bell. I knew I had him in the first round."

He was flown to Walter Reed General Hospital at Washington Thursday, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

The death is the 22nd high school football fatality this season.

was fourth, and then Mike Martindale, Jim Diltz, were fifth and sixth with times of 11:42 and 11:46 respectively. Eighth, ninth and tenth places went to Circleville with Mel Smith, Joe Winner and Larry Morgan finishing in that order.

Circleville's depth and consistency have been a key factor in the good season according to LaBounty, who said many of the CHS harriers had "been pleasant surprises" this year.

A week from today they close the season at Raymond Memorial Golf Course where the district meet is being held.

Death Takes Third Tennessee Coach

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charles Rash, 28, assistant football coach at the University of Tennessee, died in a hospital here early today of injuries suffered Monday in a railroad crossing accident.

Two other Tennessee assistant coaches, William B. (Bill) Majors, 26, and Robert T. (Bob) Jones, 30, were killed outright when a Southern Railway passenger train struck a car in which they were riding.

Rash, offensive line coach on Head Coach Doug Dickey's staff, suffered severe head injuries and doctors held out little hope for his recovery.

A standout lineman at the University of Missouri in 1956-58, Rash began his coaching career at his alma mater. He served as line coach at the Air Force Academy from 1961 to the spring of 1964 when he joined the Tennessee staff.

Arnette Trimmed From Royals Roster

CINCINNATI (AP) — Guard Jay Arnette was placed on waivers Thursday by the Cincinnati Royals. Arnette had been with the pro basketball club the last two seasons.

He was the Royals' No. 2 draft choice in 1960 after playing for the University of Texas. He averaged 6.3 points a game in 63 appearances last year.

The action trimmed the Royals' roster to 12, the number the club is permitted to carry.

Michigan State's Defense Faces Air-Minded Purdue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan State must carry its "minus" defense from the ground to the air against Purdue Saturday if it hopes to retain its lofty position in the college football rankings.

The Spartans, the No. 2 team in the nation, travel to Lafayette, Ind., to take on the sixth-ranked Boilermakers. In another clash between Top Ten teams, Southern California, No. 4, meets Notre Dame, No. 7, at South Bend, Ind.

In extending its record to 5-0, Michigan State has held its past two opponents, Michigan and Ohio State, to minus yardage on the ground.

Michigan lost 29 yards rushing while Ohio State lost 22 yards, the first time in history the Buckeyes' vaunted running game had turned out negatively.

But Purdue, 4-0-1, is primarily a passing team, with Bob Griese sparking the attack. Griese is the third-leading passer in the nation, having thrown for 1,111 yards in five games. He also has tossed for nine of the Boilermakers' 14 touchdowns.

"This is definitely one of the finest teams we will play all year," said Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty. "It will take a 100 per cent performance by all players to win this one."

Michigan State has a strong offense to go along with its defense. The Spartans are the 10th best offensive team, Purdue is 11th. The battle also will affect the standings in the Big Ten since Michigan State is 3-0 and Purdue 2-0 in conference play.

Notre Dame will be out to return the favor Southern California gave the Irish last season. The teams played in the last game of the season, and when it was over unbeaten Notre Dame no longer was unbeaten.

This season the Trojans have been won four straight games after tying Minnesota in the opener, while the Irish have lost only to Purdue in four starts.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC starting at 1 p.m. EST.

Four of the remaining six Top Ten teams play night games. Top-ranked Arkansas takes on North Texas State, fifth-ranked Texas meets Rice, Louisiana

NEW YORK (AP)—Television producers, scratching frantically for established books and old feature movies as suitable for adaptation into series, have come up with some almost esoteric selections.

One company is preparing to shoot a pilot program based on "The Perils of Pauline," a serial in the days when the sound track of a movie was the theatre's piano player, and the heroine often was literally hanging from a cliff at the end of an episode.

Another plans to do something based on the "Tom Swift" books, beloved by a generation of boys who are now middle-aged men.

One studio made-but failed to sell a pilot for a series about Frank Merriwell, a hard-cover all-American boy.

ABC is modernizing Little Red Riding Hood as a special to be broadcast soon. It will retell the story from the standpoint of the wolf. And now ABC is planning something contemporary for Jack and the Beanstalk.

There is, however, still plenty of adaptable material around if a little imagination is used.

How about, for one, an hour action series about a fellow named Jean Valjean — better change that to Jack Valjean — who walks out of a supermarket without paying for a loaf of bread and gets the police chasing him? Of course, it would be better to make him a good-looking American boy and get rid of that wife and kids.

A good title would be "The Miserable Ones" — or is that too down-beat?

What about the "Rover Boys"? Think of the possibilities — Tom, the fun-loving brother, could handle the comedy sequences. Dick, the serious one, could carry the dramatic episodes, and Harry, the one they protect, might get involved in psychiatric or medical situations.

Or "The Elsie Books" — what a soap opera! You start with her as a young girl and, with three shows a week, carry her right through marriage and a whole new set of emotional problems. Change her name though to something modern — Linda, maybe? Or "The Little Colonel" — she might be a gorgeous WAC officer.

"Little Lord Fauntleroy," with all those lovely curls and cute clothes would fit right into the current sartorial scene and would probably hit the young crowd right where they live — if you could get one of Herman's Hermit's to play the title role.

NEW YORK (AP) — Special programs during the next seven days of television viewing are scarce commodities — there is really only one: CBS' "own Meeting of the World" on Tuesday with a lot of the world's most important people getting together by the Early Bird satellite and electronic equipment to discuss our problems.

The show comes in "CBS Reports" regular time period—10 to 11 p.m. EDT. Aside from that, there are a few special treats built into regular programming. Milton Berle fans will find him osting ABC's "Hollywood Palace" Saturday night (9:30-10).

Victor Borge plus Joan Sutherland will be visible on Sunday evening Telephone Hour (6:30-7:30) on NBC.

CBS' Ed Sullivan will present Helen Hayes and Duke Ellington among other stars (8-9) Sunday.

And then, too there is Dinah Shore guest-starring with Danny Kaye Wednesday evening (10-11) on CBS.

PRR Official Speaks on Improvements

Improved equipment in many phases of railroadng was cited as proof of the industry's progressive attitude by R. E. Sullivan, general superintendent of the Western Region of the Pennsylvania Railroad, in a speech delivered this week at a luncheon meeting of the local Sertoma Club.

"In the equipment field probably no industry has had such radical changes required by consumer or patron necessity," Sullivan said. He named the following new types of cars as illustrations:

1. Tri-level and bi-level flat cars capable of handling as many as 15 new automobiles on each 89-foot car.
2. TruTrain flat cars of the same length, able to haul two highway trailers, may loaded in excess of allowable weights in some areas, were they to move entirely by highway.
3. Hopper cars of 100-ton capacity, used mainly in unit train coal service.
4. Center flow type 100-ton covered hopper cars to replace box cars in grain movement.
5. New self propelled passenger cars to be used in high-speed experimental service over the Pennsylvania rails between Washington and New York, with the ultimate objective of 150-mile-per-hour speed.

In noting the Pennsylvania Railroad's constant efforts to improve its freight service, Sullivan described a new type of classification yard, the pilot project of which was installed at Grandview Yard in Columbus last year. This was so successful that the same principle was applied to a much larger yard, 59th St. in Chicago, he said. While it has been in operation only about a month, he declared that the improved service and decreased costs already evident made it worthwhile.

To get best results, Sullivan said we must have people trained to the use of the improved facilities.

Antidraft Probe Asked By Lausche

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, has asked the Justice Department to check whether antidraft activities are in violation of existing federal criminal laws, or whether new laws are needed.

In a letter sent to Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, Lausche referred to reports that a group known as Students for a Democratic Society has drafted a new master plan to enlist high school students in its antidraft movement.

"The plan contemplates staging demonstrations at draft board examining centers, urging potential draftees to become conscientious objectors; to picket recruiters for the armed forces and reserve officers training corps labeling them as 'war criminals'; and also to attack local draft boards as 'undemocratic,'" Lausche said.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller, D-Ohio, in a similar but separate statement meanwhile, said antidraft demonstrators are guilty of "near treason in their willful campaign to undermine America's war against communism."

The Lancaster Democrat also suggested that the selective service consider drafting antidraft demonstrators immediately.

Education Bill Sent To Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Johnson an education bill that would give the nation's colleges a $2-387,000,000 shot in the arm while establishing three landmark programs.

The measure far exceeds the President's recommendations, but he is expected to sign it and set in motion for the first time in the nation's history:

1. A program of federal scholarships to help young people from low-income families attend college.

2. A system of federally insured state and private loans to assist college students from middle-income families.

3. The dispatch of a National Teacher Corps to poverty-stricken areas in a bootstrap attempt to lift education standards.

The Teacher Corps was the major item in dispute as the bill made its final run Wednesday through Congress.

A Republican attempt to drop the corps from the legislation failed in the House 226-152. The House then passed the bill by a vote of 312-63. A few hours later the Senate gave it voice-vote approval.

Most of the programs included in the authorization would be covered for three years.

For the first year $851 million would be authorized, almost 3½ times Johnson's original request. But he has agreed to the expansion.
